

Don't Forget To Dance
Written by Ray Davies,

The C#m is there as a passing chord, which is only played for a beat or so.

Intro: A D A D

A D
A
You look out of your window, into the night, could be rain, could be snow,

C#m D
But it can't feel as cold as what you're feeling inside.

A C#m D
and all of your friends are either married, vanished, or just left alone,

E D
But that's no reason to just stop living,

E D E A
That's no excuse to just give in to a sad and lonely heart.

A C#m D E
Don't forget to dance, no, no, no, don't forget to smile.

A C#m D E
Don't forget to dance, no, no, no, don't forget to smile.

E D
'Cause darling, darling, I bet you danced a good one in your time,

E D
And if this were a party, I'd really be sure the next one would be mine,

E A
Yes, you with the broken heart.

A C#m D E
Don't forget to dance, no, no, no, don't forget to smile.

A C#m D E
Don't forget to dance, no, no, no, don't forget to smile.

D G A

D G A
Don't forget to dance, no, no, no, forget it for a while.

D G A, A (C#m) D E

A C#m D
You walk down the street and all the young punks whistle at you,

A C#m
D
A nice bit of old, just goes to show what you can achieve with the right attitude.

A C#m D
As you pass them by, they whisper their remarks one to another,

A C#m
D
And you give them the eye, even though you know that you could be their mother.

E
You do the thing you love the best,

D E
Which separates you from the rest, and what you love to do the most?

D E A
And when they ask me how you dance, I say that you dance real close.

D G A
Don't forget to dance, no, no, no, forget it for a while.

D G A
Don't forget to dance, no, no, no, forget it for a while.
